Sweet profit made in hospice challenge

EMPLOYEES from a national sugar company showed their sweet natures when they raised thousands of pounds for a children's hospice.

Six teams from Tate & Lyle Sugars took over six charity shops for a day in a challenge to see who would make most money for East London's Richard House Hospice.

They moved into the hospice's six shops and slogged away to net £25,000 between them.

Their efforts will go towards providing free care for the 300 families and children Richard House supports and cares for.

The hospice put the challenge to the company to test the teams' entrepreneurial skills in the heart of the local community, they had to sort and price goods, organise the displays, work on the tills and assist customers.

Barking and Heathway shop manager, Lesley Levitt, was at the Heathway shop on the day of the challenge

She said: "The Heathway shop team were great sales people and had a good rapport with customers".

In the run up to the challenge, each team set up its own fundraising web pages on JustGiving.

On the day, staff dressed up as superheros at the Dagenham Heathway shop, the Hornchurch shop was invaded by monkeys and zebras, while a pirate sold his wares at the Upminster shop. Tasty homemade treats such as short-breads, cupcakes and refreshments were sold.

SUPERHEROES: Staff in costume boosted sales at Dagenham charity shop

Fraser Chynoweth, food service sales director for Tate & Lyle Sugars said: "Not only did the day and the planning for it bring everyone more closely together, it helped foster a genuine belief that what we were working for would make a difference.

Sarah Burden, Richard House corporate partnerships executive, said: "We are extremely grateful for the continuing support of the company."

Tate & Lyle Sugars have been supporting Richard House since 1999.

SWITCH SAVES ON FUEL BILLS

LIAM Smith is on a mission to help residents cut their fuel bills.

The leader of Barking and Dagenham Council is urging residents to sign up to the Big Energy Switch - its first ever collective bargaining scheme, which could save residents around £250 a year on their gas and electricity bills.

The council - like many others in London will negotiate a price with energy companies - and he knows that the more signing up the better the deal they will get.

He said: "Gas and electricity prices are rising all the time, and that puts yet another strain on household budgets. Other collective energy switching schemes around the country have shown that this is a way to reduce bills and bring down costs.

"If an energy company has the opportunity of signing up a large number of people at once it stands to reason that they'll be motivated to offer a low tariff."

"That's why we want as many people as possible to sign up to the Big Energy Switch. The more people we can get to sign up, the better chance we'll have of negotiating a low price."

Anyone who has a fuel bill can sign up between now and April 8 and an auction will take place with the companies the following day - and the the lowest tariff offered wins.

Everyone who signed up will be sent an offer by e-mail based on their calculated energy usage, and will be free to accept or reject it.

The council is backing the scheme because it believes although the energy market was privatised several years ago a lot of people are still paying far too much for their gas and electricity.

Many are afraid to switch and do not have time to compare suppliers - and any think it would be too much of a hassle.

Barking and Dagenham and acting jointly with Thurrock Council in Essex, which it shared some services with.

Residents can sign up by going to www.lbbd.gov.uk/bigswitch

Tube mosaics celebrate film legend Hitchcock

NOT MANY East End cinema goers who go to see the new film Hitchcock will realise that the master of suspense was born in Leytonstone. - and two local mementoes there celebrate him.

Alfred Joseph Hitchcock was the third child of William and Emma Hitchcock and was born at 517 High Road, Leytonstone in 1899.

His father was a poultry dealer and fruit-importer and the family home, above the shop, survived until it was demolished in the 1960s to make way for a filling station.

He is remembered in a series of 17 mosaic panels set along the underground entrance walkway at Leytonstone tube station, showing scenes from some of his films, including Psycho and North By North West and himself in director mode.

One of the panels shows the young Alfred sitting on a horse in front of his father's shop. More chillingly, at the centre of the walkway, and perhaps tellingly at its deepest point, another illustrates the terror of the shower scene in Psycho.

They were created by the Greenwich Mural

Workshop to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Hitchcock.

The Alfred Hitchcock Hotel is in nearby Whipps Cross Road.

Its lobby walls display Hitchcock memorabilia and stills from many of his films. On the pavement to the front is a request bus stop also named after him.

The new film, starring Anthony Hopkins and Helen Mirren, tells the story behind the making of Psycho.

Hitchcock began his early film career as a title card designer at Gainsborough Studios in Hackney before moving on to find fame and fortune in Hollywood.

At the beginning of the 20th Century, Walthamstow emerged as one of the first centres of the British film industry.

Have a de-clutter and help pets

A CHARITY is looking for volunteers and stock for its Barking store. Sarah Bargus who manages the PDSA shop in Station Parade is urging animal lovers to have a look through their wardrobes and on their bookshelves, for any items no longer worn or read.

The store is desperate for good quality donations including clothes as well as shoes, accessories and DVDs.

"As well as de-cluttering your home, you'll be helping a very worthy cause at the same time," she said.

Sarah is also appealing for local people to lend a hand and volunteer at the store.

"Volunteering for PDSA is fun and the skills you learn look great on any CV, plus you get to meet new people and make some friends along the way. No previous retail experience is needed, as full training is provided for all new volunteers. So, if you would like to help sick and injured pets, why not join our friendly volunteer team," she said.

For more details about volunteering for PDSA, please call the National Volunteering Centre on freephone 0800 854194 or visit the website www.pdsa.org.uk/volunteering

The shop is at 50 Station Parade, Barking (opposite Barking Station).

PDSA store raises funds to provide PDSA-funded veterinary treatment in the local area. Donations can be taken to the store from Monday to Saturday, between 9am and 4pm.

THE CAPITAL'S biggest organisation for small firms re-launched its Keep Trade Local campaign last Friday, in the light of the horsemeat scandal.

The Federation of Small Businesses (FSB) claims customers are already returning to their local butchers for fresh meat and would like to see the trend extended to other independent retailers.

On the approach to February 14, the national average increase is around three per cent.

Brothel closed

POLICE have closed a brothel in Barking following complaints from neighbours.

'Secret' decisions to be more transparent

EXECUTIVE councillors will be forced to compile reports ahead of debates through fears they are keeping decisions secret.

Waltham Forest Council's Cabinet will have to produce written logs before putting them before colleagues for questioning.

Councillors holding smaller portfolios, dubbed juniors, will also be required to write additional documentation.

The council warned three reports, two from an executive and one from a junior, will be analysed at each meeting.

In her report Holly Adams, Waltham Forest Council's committee and councillor services manager, said: "It has been a concern for most authorities with executive arrangements that full council feels excluded from reviewing the work of the executive."

"It is therefore proposed to add a new requirement for executive members and junior members to produce written annual reports on which they may be questioned at full council."

"This reporting mechanism will be in addition to the council's scrutiny function and provide additional transparency and openness to the work and performance of the executive."

Reports will form part of the full council agenda and questions will have to be submitted in writing.

PLEASED: Matt Davis

Picture by Roy Tillet

Other changes include the Mayor of Waltham Forest inviting public speakers to address full council at any point of the meeting, rather than in public questions.

Through fears debates will take too long, councillors will be restricted to one motion per meeting.

Councillor Matt Davis (Con, Endlebury), leader of the opposition, supported the changes.

He said: "I feel it could be a positive thing. The more scrutiny the executive are subject to the better."

"The people benefiting the most will be the residents of Waltham Forest."

"There is a lack of transparency on how decisions are made by the cabinet. They are nodded through without debate and discussion."

Households take waste challenge

A COUPLE have learned how to cut the amount of food they waste - and knock a chunk off the cost of the weekly shop.

Adam and Teresa from Waltham Forest took part in three-week challenge to see how they could trim the food they have to throw away.

Couples from six other borough joined them in the challenge set by North London Waste Authority and Waste Watch.

The 'competitors' had to keep a food diary and told to plan meals carefully, get portions right, be creative with leftovers and storing food correctly - they were also told to keep an eye on use by dates.

The households were provided with tools and one-to-one support and had to keep a food waste diary to record and understand the food they were throwing away and why.

The seven households all successfully completed the project and reduced their food waste by 38 per cent on average.

One household achieved a 75 per cent drop in food waste.

The reductions saved the participating households cash too, over the course.

The weekly food shop was down 30 per cent; around a saving of £32 per household per week.

CUTTING waste: Councillor Clyde Loakes with couple Adam and Teresa who took the challenge.

Adam, said: "I didn't think we wasted much food, but the challenge showed how much was wasted, and how much money could be saved."

"We are really surprised at the results. Planning ahead was the key. Now we compost all our waste food, and that's the best thing we've learned from the project."

Councillor Clyde Loakes, chair of the waste authority and a member of Waltham Forest Council, said:

"These amazing results make it clear that the average north London household could save a massive amount every month just by wasting less food."

The challenge was sparked by a recent report highlighting the fact that up to 50 per cent of food globally is thrown away, having major consequences for the environment, hunger and the economy.

The families taking part were each given a voucher for an organic vegetable box every week for a month, at a ceremony at Portcullis House, Westminster recently.

Sail from Tilbury to Oz

CRUISE and Maritime Voyages (CMV) will be sailing to Australia and South Africa twice a year from Tilbury.

The voyages will be made by Astor, a 600 passenger, 20,060 ton ship that joins the firm's fleet in November 2013. The ship has recently enjoyed a £14 million upgrade.

Astor will operate alongside the 800 passenger flagship Marco Polo and 700 passenger ship, Discovery.

Astor is described as a 'premium four star product' and has 289 cabins including 42 suites with 70 per cent of accommodation offering an ocean view.

Chris Coates, commercial director at CMV, said Astor boasts a wide range of beautifully appointed lounges, seven passenger decks, traditional wooden decks and also an extensive sports deck with a wrap around jogging track and attractive wellness centre with a heated internal pool.

He said: "Astor is a beautiful ocean going vessel with a proud heritage and we are delighted that Astor will be part of our international development plans as we establish a strong presence on the Australasian cruise market.

The opening of a sales office in Sydney follows the establishment in 2011 of a dedicated North American sales office in Fort Lauderdale.

Full details will also be available shortly on www.cruiseandmaritime.com and cruise only bookings can be made either by contacting Reservations on 0845 430 0274.

Police cheque out gold find

TWO police officers traced the owner of a box of stolen Asian gold through an old dog-eared cheque.

The gold, worth around £2,000, was handed into Longbridge Safer Neighbourhoods Team, Barking, by a married couple - who do not wish to be named - who had found it on the borough's Gascoigne Estate, last month.

PC Scott Mahoney and PCSO Tony Ross had little to go on in their search for the owner.

The only clues the officers had were a few old documents in the box, which repeatedly led to dead ends.

They visited victims of Asian gold burglaries to see if they recognised the jewellery and trawled through endless crime reports but no owners could be found.

Eventually they traced the owners through an old Nat West Bank cheque found inside the jewellery box.

Sergeant Andy Larkin from the safer neighbourhoods team said: "Jewellery is often of great sentimental value and thanks to the good nature of the couple who found the gold and the diligence of PC Mahoney and PCSO Ross a victim of crime will have her jewellery returned to her.

"The couple who originally found the jewellery box demonstrated impressive public spirit," he added.

The gold jewellery had been stolen during a burglary in North Finchley a few days before. The box and its contents will be returned to the owner after have been examined by a forensics expert.

Cabinet proposes rate rise

COUNCIL tenants in Waltham Forest look set to pay more in the rents for housing, heat and garages.

Waltham Forest Council's cabinet agreed on Tuesday, February 12, residents will need to cough up more cash in rents and services paid to Ascham Homes, who is responsible for maintaining the council's housing stock.

If approved by councillors, council tenants will be hit with a 4.14 per cent increase in rent (£96.20 per week), a four per cent hike in heat charges and rises in garage rents by three per cent to 11.52 a week in April.

The increases will generate an income of £40,000 a week, with a total saving of £2.1million.

In the meeting the executive agreed to homeless people staying in nightly bed and breakfast facilities would pay £63.72 per week and travellers staying on sites 43.44 per cent – both increases of three per cent from April this year.

Metal thief given 10 year jail term

A PROLIFIC metal thief has been jailed for three years after he stole railway cable 10 times in three months.

Most of the offences were committed in east London, including Ilford, and the thief was arrested during a British Transport Police (BTP) raid on an address in Newham, where officers found more than a tonne of cable sheathing in the loft of the address.

Christian Sascau, 35, of no fixed address, was sentenced to three years in prison at Snaresbrook Crown Court on February 7.

He was found guilty by a jury on ten counts of conspiracy to steal cable from the London Underground between February 5 and May 3, 2012.

Anyone with information about cable theft is asked to contact BTP on 0800 40 50 40.

Shop closed for special delivery

A BUSINESS owner has spoken of her shock and delight after helping to deliver a baby in her shop in Upminster.

Audrey Peters was working at her shop on Saturday at Bells Blinds in St Mary's Lane, Upminster, when Rosalie Young started to go into labour.

Rosalie lives in the flat above the shop and had walked down the stairs to see Audrey.

Audrey, 47, said: “She was coming downstairs and she said she was getting contractions, so I had to quickly act.”

She said she got hold of scores of display cushions and put them on the shop floor along with her cardigan to make Rosalie comfortable.

Audrey added: “It was better that she was downstairs as it was easier for the ambulance to park at the front of the shop rather than the rear.

“Rosalie went into labour five days early, it was such a surprise, but one of the most exciting things ever to happen to me!”

Rosalie said: “I couldn't believe it, I was early and my first thought was ‘I can't do this, I've got no pain relief.

“I had this pregnancy all planned as I had no pain relief with my first baby so I was determined to get pain relief with the second, but I gave birth five days early.

“Audrey said to me ‘I'm probably going to have to deliver the baby’ and I just kept thinking, oh my God I've got no pain relief.

“I was holding on to a piece of furniture saying to Audrey ‘I can't do this’ but Audrey was fantastic and kept me going.

“She put all cushions on the floor, pulled down the blinds and put up a sign saying baby being born!”

Baby Brayden Tucker was born shortly after midday on Saturday, weighing 7lb, and took just an hour to come into the world. The paramedics arrived as Rosalie was giving birth to Brayden.

Rosalie, 26, also has daughter Onia who is four years old.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required, the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address.

There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.
